Kentucky Association of Housing Officers

LeRon Collier President-Elect

LeRon Collier is born and raised in the state of Kentucky. He grew up in the western side of the state before coming to Georgetown, KY to get his Bachelor degree in Elementary Education at Georgetown College. He went on to pursue a career in Higher Ed by working at ECU and getting his Master's in Student Personnel Services in Higher Education. He is now back at his alma mater, Georgetown College, serving as the Assistant Dean of Students, Director of Housing and Residence Life.

LeRon is happy to serve the state of Kentucky as a member of the KAHO Governing Council. He believes in the importance of coming together and sharing knowledge in our quest to educate students all around the state and the region. He previously served as the Small School Representative for KAHO and has served in numerous other committees with SEAHO and SACSA.

In his free time, LeRon has numerous hobbies that he enjoys, which include but isn't limited to, watching TV, listening to music, playing and watch sports, being outdoors, and spending time with his family. LeRon also enjoys the perks of working in a college environment where he gets to be a part of the students' journey through a very important time in their lives.
